What do young people need/want to know?

This is your moment to share your experience and ideas!

In this ever-evolving digital landscape, young people are encountering new technologies at an unprecedented pace.

This webinar will equip you with additional knowledge of the tech space to navigate emerging technologies while exploring your ideas of what would be needed for them to be positive spaces for children and youth.

About us

5Rights Foundation is an international organization that advocates for children's rights in the digital world. Our goal is to make sure the online experience is safe and beneficial for young people and children worldwide.

Our advocacy team has successfully worked with international bodies such as the UN and EU, as well as with National authorities on a global scale.

A strong part of our work is based on youth engagement at all levels, which is why we organise a many events with young people at their centre.

Our Webinar Series is a model through which we gather youth inputs to have meaningful youth participation at the highest levels of policy.

Want to join our Youth Ambassador Programme?

If you are passionate about youth and child rights in the digital environment, you might be the perfect candidate to join our Youth Ambassador Programme. You will have the chance to represent us on high-level events, learn more about your rights and advocate for them.
